Hear from attorneys and an IT specialist who have had first-hand experience in planning for business continuity in the face of natural or man-made disasters.

Topics Include

- Scared Straight: cautionary tales of law offices that had no Plan A before the tornado, let alone a Plan B
- Legal/ethical obligations: you may owe your clients to have a business continuity plan
- How to develop and implement a practical business continuity plan for your firm
- IT survival: How your computer could save your practice

We encourage you to register early to give you time to verify that your system is webcast-ready. Our technical support lines are usually extremely busy on the day of a webcast, so please register and test your system a few days ahead of the webcast date.

When you register for a webcast, a link appears on the TexasBarCLE.com home page under Your Live Webcast Events. (You must be logged in to see the link.) A week before each webcast, an additional link will appear. This link, Test Your System, will direct you to a sample webcast page where you can test your system by viewing a short demo video clip.

If you cannot participate in the entire live webcast, the recorded seminar will be archived and available within one week after the event for your review through the remainder of the year. From the archive screen you can complete the viewing of the segment, visit our discussion forum, and then apply for MCLE credit. You may access the archived webcast from Your CLE Purchases link on TexasBarCLE.com.
